

2 PLANES END FIRST LAP OF OCEAN FLIGHT

Navy Officials Endeavor to Locate Third

WASHINGTON, May 8.—With two of the three navy seaplanes which started from Rockaway, Long Island this morning on the first leg of the trans-Atlantic flight, safely at Halifax, navy officials were endeavoring tonight to locate the third, missing since early in the afternoon. No report of the missing machine, the NC-4 commanded by Lieutenant Commander A. C. Reid, had been received after the machine passed the destroyer, McDermut, first station ship located about sixty miles north of Cape Cod.

Orders were issued sending the McDermut and the next ship beyond, the Kimberly, in search of the seaplane. Commander Reid had reported just before reaching the McDermut that the oil pump of the distance they were giving trouble and he might have to come down. Later the NC-4 reported to Commander Towers in the NC-3 that the trouble had been repaired.

Commander Towers with the NC-1 and NC-3 made the trip to Halifax in a fraction less than thirty hours, the distance they took being 525 miles. These two planes went thru the test in such fashion as to convince officers here that prospects for reaching Plymouth, England, the goal of the navy airmen, were bright.

Each of the three planes had a triple radio installation when it left Rockaway. One set was the telephone by which they communicated with each other while in flight. The second set was the regular long distance radio installation and the third was the equipment for the radio compass. As the planes approached one of the patrol vessels, before it was sighted the long distance radio was buzzing. Questions and answers flashed back and forth dealing with directions for navigation. One message carried greetings to Commander Towers and his crews from Acting Secretary Roosevelt, another cable from London said that every facility of the British admiralty would be at the disposal of the American airmen when they reached British waters.

The communication arrangements of the navy department worked out perfectly. Repeatedly messages from Commander Towers, sent from his flagship, the NC-3, reached the desks of officers here in a few minutes of the time they were sent. The entire operation of the system was grouped under direction of Lieutenant Tunis A. M. Craven. Throughout the day Lieutenant Craven kept a communication "log" on the flight made up from the messages that came.

More difficulty will be exercised in getting word thru promptly when the long lap from Newfoundland to the Azores starts. When the fifth or sixth station ship has been left behind communication will have to speed ahead or be relayed back by cable. The dispatchers cannot communicate more than 250 miles by radio in daytime and they will leave their posts after the last of the fliers has passed.

Planes Close Together. Halifax, May 8.—Two of the American navy seaplanes, the NC-1 and the NC-3, arrived here at 8 o'clock tonight (7 o'clock New York time), thus finishing successfully the first leg of their trans-Atlantic flight.

The two planes were sighted first at 7:44 p. m. The NC-3 took the water at East Passage at 7:55 and the NC-1 ten minutes later. No reports have been received of the NC-4 while developing trouble with one of her engines not long after leaving Rockaway Point. Commanders John H. Towers who brought the two giant seaplanes safely to port after a flight of 540 miles from Rockaway point in nine hours and 15 minutes, expected to leave tomorrow morning on the second leg of the journey which will take the aircraft to Trepassey, N. F., a distance of 460 miles. Commander Towers based his expectation on a report of Prof. Alexander MacEde, the meteorological expert at Harvard University who sent word from Halifax this morning which caused the aviators to take the air. Prof. MacEde said tonight that the present favorable atmospheric conditions were likely to continue for another 24 hours at least. Meanwhile cruisers and other craft are searching for the missing NC-4 commanded by Lieutenant Commander A. C. Reid which fell behind because of engine trouble. When mid-way between the destroyed McDermut, stationed at Cape Cod and the Kimberly, which was number two in the chain of craft stationed along the coast to protect the aviators in their flight, Reid reported that he would be forced to descend because of a defective engine. The McDermut was seen to steam off at full speed to the assistance of the NC-4 but late tonight no word had been received aboard the U. S. S. Baltimore the mother ship stationed here to indicate that she had been picked up. The aircraft reported, however, that at the

Winter Wheat Crop Promises To Break Record

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The greatest crop of winter wheat ever produced in any country is in prospect for this year's harvest. Today's forecast of production estimated by the department of agriculture placed its size at almost nine hundred million bushels—in exact figures 899,915,000—which would make this year's harvest worth $2,034,000 at the government's price guarantee of $2.24 a bushel.

Kansas is producing an enormous crop, the forecast of production for that state being at least 22 per cent of the country's total indicated output. Illinois has a forecast of nearly 65,000,000 bushels, Indiana about 56,000,000; Ohio 55,000,000 and Oklahoma slightly more than 54,000,000.

The acreage is the largest on record and the area abandoned from winter-killing, over-floods and other causes is extremely low. 1.1 per cent. Growing conditions have been splendid and the crop from April 1 to May 1 made an improvement bringing it to 100.5 per cent of a normal, which is the highest condition on record for any crop since the war.

Continued good growing conditions from now to time of harvest might result in a crop larger than 900,000,000 bushels. The May 1 condition and production forecast of winter wheat by principal states follow:

Pennsylvania, condition 101; Production 34,039,000.
Ohio, condition 105; Production 54,705,000.
Indiana, condition 100; Production 55,000,000.
Illinois, condition 100; Production 65,000,000.
Missouri, condition 101; Production 72,434,000.
Nebraska, condition 101; Production 70,709,000.
Kansas, condition 103; Production 197,339,000.
Oklahoma, condition 102; Production 54,134,000.

Winter wheat production based on April 1 conditions, was estimated at 897,000,000 bushels and 899,915,000 acres, consisting of 55,000,000 winter wheat crop and 89,915,000 bushels and the rye crop 89,915,000 bushels.

Condition of winter wheat compares with 99.8 per cent of a normal on April 1 this year, 86.4 per cent on May 1 last year and 85.4 per cent on May 1 average.

Condition of rye compares with 99.6 per cent of a normal on April 1 this year, 85.8 per cent on May 1 last year and 89.8 per cent on May 1 average.

The winter wheat acreage compares with 43,264,000 sown last autumn and 36,704,000 harvested last year. The ten year average abandonment of planted acreage is 11.9 per cent.

COUNCIL WORKS ON PEACE TERMS FOR AUSTRIA

Estimate Five Million Crowns Will be Demanded by Allies

(By The Associated Press.) While the German peace plenipotentiaries are digesting the text of the peace treaty handed them Wednesday and communicating with the Weimar government as to the demands upon Germany by the allied and associated powers, the council of four is preparing peace terms for Austria-Hungary.

The German-Austrian delegation is reported to have started for St. Germain, France, there to await the summons to Versailles. Estimates have been made in Paris that 5,000,000,000 crowns will be demanded as indemnity from Austria-Hungary in addition to the elimination of frontiers. The pre-war debt of the former empire and kingdom it is said, is to be divided among the newly formed states which have arisen or are to arise in their old territories. It is reported that when the terms of peace with Turkey are concluded the United States is to be requested to become the mandatory of Armenia and that President Wilson will place the matter before congress.

The communist government in Hungary is understood to have declined to accept the terms laid down by Rumania for an armistice and has decided to continue fighting. The terms of the Rumanians included disarmament, the surrender of war materials and the return of war prisoners without reciprocity.

Trouble is brewing for the Afghan tribesmen who, aided by Afghan regular troops have isolated the British border by crossing it and occupying positions on the treacherous side. The British are taking military precautions and also have addressed a strong note of protest to the Amir of Afghanistan.

EUROPEAN PAPERS COMMENT ON TREATY

PARIS, May 8.—(French Wireless Service.)—The Echo-De-Paris which has been a consistent critic of the peace conference ends its article in review of the peace treaty as follows:

"Let us make the best of what we have. We must not work under the illusion that we have won a victory. We must work loyally with our British and American friends."

The Petit Journal sums up its opinion on the document as follows:

'Reilly's Bucks' Receive Hearty Welcome Home

CHICAGO, May 8.—The 149th Field Artillery ("Reilly's Bucks") 42nd (Rainbow) Division was welcomed home today by thousands of Illinoisans. The regiment was formerly the old Illinois National Guard batteries, had been away 21 months and had taken part in most of the greatest battles fought since America went into the world war.

With them came some 200 Illinois men of the 167th Infantry. Some estimates were that 250,000 persons witnessed the parade in a drizzle at noon that followed a reception by relatives and friends, estimated at 120,000 at the Coliseum. There were delegations from all sections of the state, in some suburbs schools were dismissed and seven hundred policemen were in charge of the crowds. The parade was followed by a luncheon at the Congress Hotel where Governor Frank O. Lowden and Major General Leonard Rood who had reviewed the parade, and Judge Marcus Kavash addressed the artillerymen and their relatives.

"If one reads the history of the achievements of this regiment they will have read the history of the Great War for you were in every part of it from the close of the struggle," said the governor, after declaring "this is a proud day for Illinois."

LINDSLEY HEADS AMERICAN LEGION

ST. LOUIS, May 8.—Determined efforts by the delegates to the national caucus of the American Legion which opened today to organize the chairmanship of the legion, Col. Theodore Lindsley, failed and Major Henry D. Lindsley of Dallas, Tex., was elected chairman. For nearly three hours the delegates urged the nomination on Colonel Roosevelt who steadfastly declined, saying he "had no desire to hold office in the organization."

After several speeches in which he urged the caucus "to take him at his word," and nominate someone else, he shouted:

"I'll tell you just why I won't accept this nomination. They say that I am a politician and that I formed this organization to make a grandstand play." Pandemonium reigned for nearly an hour, shouts of we want "Paddy" and "make him take it" predominating.

Colonel Bennett Clark, son of Senator Champ Clark, then took the chair and told the convention that he would accept the nomination. Colonel Roosevelt again insisted that he could not hold office and the delegates finally yielded to his wishes.

Running against Major Lindsley, who was supported by Colonel Roosevelt, was Sergeant Jack Sullivan of Seattle, Wash., the candidate of the "Buck Press." The name of Sullivan was withdrawn when the state of Washington was reached in the voting and at his request Major Lindsley's election made unanimous. The vote at the time was Lindsley 630, Sullivan 209.

Hines Would Consolidate All Railroads

NEW YORK, May 8.—Compulsory consolidation of all the railroads of the country week and strong into twelve to twenty large competitive systems, privately owned but operated under government regulation was urged tonight by Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads as a solution of the railroad problem.

Speaking before the Economic Club Mr. Hines declared that unless some cure "as radical as the one proposed" were adopted post war regulations would prove even more disappointing than the thoroughly unsatisfactory pre war regulation. He said he was speaking for himself alone and did not reflect the sentiments either of President Wilson, who still was maintaining an "open mind" or the railroad administration "which has no official function to perform in this regard."

Coupled with his proposal for compulsory consolidation Mr. Hines urged that the new systems be officially appraised and capitalized and the rates sufficient to guarantee earnings be fixed, thus attracting new capital needed for development of the roads. As setting that in the past there had been no effective point of contact between the government and the regulating bodies Mr. Hines proposed frank recognition of the fact that the government "is in effect a partner" of the railroads by placing government representatives on the boards of directors of the various lines and making some of these same representatives members of the government regulating body. Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the senate committee on interstate commerce also addressed the club making virtually the same position on compulsory construction that Mr. Hines did.

TO BRING CANADIAN WHEAT INTO U. S.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Julius Barnes, United States wheat director announced tonight on his return from Chicago that he had completed negotiations to bring 4,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat into the United States for distribution to the mills.

These negotiations have been in progress for several days with the Canadian authorities. It was said, Director Barnes announced that this imported wheat will be sufficient for mills which have not provided their stocks up to the new crop. He reached this opinion, he stated after a survey of the mill situation in this country and found that many mills are stocked with more than they can possibly grind before the new crop is harvested.

SAYS HUNS WILL OPPOSE OPPRESSION

BERLIN, May 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—The National Zeitung, a leading German newspaper, publishes what it terms the official standpoint the government expects to take regarding the peace terms. The government, according to the newspaper, will refuse to sign any part of the treaty which provides for "oppression of Germany" for instance the entente's standpoint regarding Danzig and the Saar Valley will not be accepted. The German delegates, however, will make every effort to institute negotiations on these and other unacceptable demands, says the National Zeitung.

WILSON WILL CABLE MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—As President Wilson will not be present at the opening of the special congress on May 19 he will cable his message from Paris and it will be read immediately after congress convenes. This was announced today at the White House.

COMPLETES INVESTIGATION.

Mexico City, Wednesday, May 7.—A Japanese government commission headed by Baron Hasegawa, Captain of engineers, has virtually completed an investigation of the petroleum possibilities in the Tampico region, it was learned today. The department of industry and commerce states that the commission plans to conduct surveys in other parts of the republic.

WILL ASK FOR BIDS FOR LARGE AMOUNT OF RAILS

Director General of Railroads Makes Announcement

NEW YORK, May 8.—Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, announced here tonight that the railroad administration will immediately ask for competitive bids for 200,000 tons of steel rails.

Mr. Hines' announcement was made after he had been informed by his representatives that they had been unable to induce representatives of the large manufacturers at a conference here today to agree on a reduction of the schedule of steel prices approved by the industrial board of the department of commerce. Mr. Hines declared it was his settled purpose to buy steel materials on the competitive bidding basis as rapidly as they are needed. He issued the following statement:

"In accordance with the suggestions from Secretary Redfield and Chairman Peck of the industrial board of the railroad administration representatives, Messrs. Henry B. Spencer and I. C. Powell, had a conference today with representatives of the steel interests. They offered criticism of the steel prices heretofore proposed and suggested maximum prices which the railroad administration would feel justified in paying for steel articles which the railroads use."

"It was made clear that the railroad administration did not wish to obtain preferential prices compared with the general public. The steel interests were unwilling to make any change in the prices announced in March. The conference on this subject are at an end and the railroad administration will proceed as rapidly as it needs steel materials of any kind to ask for competitive bids and purchase accordingly. The railroad administration will at once in accordance with this policy ask for bids for 200,000 tons of steel rails."

"By way of comment on the prices proposed in March, the following views were expressed by Messrs. Spencer and Powell: "The reduction since the war in a single element of cost is so great as to make the prices of steel rails and the industrial board profitable to the steel interests as were the higher prices that prevailed during the war on the basis of which the steel interests made enormous profits. This item of cost is the price of scrap material which is not a controlled commodity but the price of which fluctuates according to supply and demand and which of course is used in the making of steel products. "The fall in the price of scrap material from $30 per ton to about $15 per ton has been so great that the resulting decrease in the cost of steel products is practically as great as the total proposed reduction in the prices of steel products. While the public has thought the steel interests could afford to make important concessions to encourage the resumption of business the fact is that on account of the reduction in the prices of scrap material alone the prices proposed for steel products represent no concessions whatever from war time profits. "That the steel interests have made profit so large as to make substantial concessions practicable under existing conditions without affecting the wages is illustrated by a consideration of the profits made for the calendar year of 1918. "The United States Steel corporation for the year 1918 reports the net earnings from all rolled tonnage before deducting income tax, excess profits tax, etc., a profit of about $33 per ton. "The Midvale Steel company for the same period shows a profit of approximately $35 per ton. "This information for other steel producing companies for the year 1918 is not yet published. Their financial statements indicate results which were correspondingly favorable. "The arguments which have been presented in the effort to support the prices proposed by the steel interests and the industrial board have rested upon cost incurred during the war period. Even those costs show exceedingly handsome profits to the low cost producers. "The war costs appear in many instances to involve a heavy increase in the royalty on the assumed value of the ore and the ground. This increase did not represent an actual increase so far as the producers of the ore were concerned but reported an additional profit. This increased profit in ore appears to be included in the war cost upon which the figures have been based. The cost of coke has fallen and represents a saving of from $3 to $5 per ton of iron. "The steel interests and the industrial board have proposed a price of $36.50 for steel billets. They have proposed prices for finished steel products which is out of line with the price for steel billets. The differentials between the prices of the finished products as compared with steel billets are so great as to make the prices for the fin-

V Loan Sales Swell Total Subscriptions

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Victory Liberty Loan subscriptions have now reached $2,818,541,000, with an increase of $359,877,000 in the last twenty-four hours. These figures as announced tonight by the treasury show that 62.63 per cent of the $4,500,000 quota has been subscribed.

Subscriptions by districts and percentages of quotas were announced as follows:

District Subscriptions: Percentage: St. Louis . . . $170,740,000 87.5 Minneapolis . . . 124,295,000 78.9 New York . . . 970,000,000 71.8 Boston . . . 254,585,000 67.8 Chicago . . . 425,098,000 65.1 Richmond . . . 123,373,000 58.7 Kansas City . . . 106,208,000 54.4 Philadelphia . . . 202,343,000 53.9 Cleveland . . . 217,368,000 48.9 Atlanta . . . 68,798,000 47.7 San Francisco . . . 122,432,000 46.6 Dallas . . . 33,390,000 35.2

Today's results went far toward removing the anxiety of treasury officials over the progress of the loan totals. With the speed shown by subscriptions in the last two days continued tomorrow and Saturday, the recorded subscriptions by Saturday night should be between $3,250,000 and $3,500,000,000 of which $1,000,000,000 will leave a billion to come in as a result of the final count of last minute sales. In previous loans the amount of these subscriptions has usually run higher than a billion.

Another factor which probably will tend to swell the figures is that big corporations may enter larger subscriptions. The feeling of relief at the treasury today is not to be interpreted as indicating any reason why all the subscriptions possible should not be rolled in during the remaining two days. A race for the highest standing in percentage of quota at the close of the records Saturday has developed between the St. Louis district which still heads the percentage list with 87.54, the Minneapolis district with 78.91 and the New York district with 71.85. New York in the figures tabulated tonight at the treasury, was within $30,000,000 of a billion dollars.

GRANTS CLEMENCY TO FIFTY MORE MEN

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Fifty more men convicted of violation of the espionage act have been granted clemency by President Wilson on recommendation of Attorney General Palmer in pursuance of the recently announced policy of being lenient to those who served a year in prison and whose sentences, after the stress of war times appear excessive.

Only one complete pardon was given, according to the announcement today. It went to C. E. Menke, sentenced in district court of Northern Alabama to 15 months imprisonment. Parley B. Doe, son of the late Chief Justice Doe of the New Hampshire supreme court, convicted in Colorado where he had gone for his health, on a charge of issuing circulars condoning the war, given a commutation of sentence effective at once.

ished products unjustifiable, especially in the light of considerations already pointed out. "Another fact which the railroad administration regards as a significant indication of the unreasonableness of using war costs as basis for current prices is that one important element in the war costs, the cost of water carriage of ore has radically changed since the termination of hostilities. There appears to be a saving of approximately $7.50 a ton for delivery of ore which represents at least $15 per ton of pig-iron. The uncertainty and hesitation which have been injected into this situation would never have arisen if at the outset Chairman Peck had been willing to accept as final the position which the railroad administration stated before the industrial board made its public announcement and which it has at all times felt forced to maintain. "The plan on which the industrial board was supposed to operate was thoroughly discussed at a special meeting of the members of the cabinet on Feb. 23rd. Mr. Peck stated in St. Louis that the meeting approved the plan of having the industrial board determine prices. "The only plan which was approved was a plan to bring about a level of prices at which the railroad administration would be justified in buying freely. The plan approved contemplated that the board would act as mediator between the producers and the railroad administration."

SENATORS BEGIN TO GIVE VIEWS ON PEACE TREATY

Many Reserve Comment, Preferring to Examine Text

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senators began to give expressions to their views on the official summary of the Versailles treaty today which is now in the hands of the German plenipotentiaries. A few senators withheld comment, preferring to examine the complete text before reaching a conclusion. These included Senators Lodge of Massachusetts, Smoot of Utah and Republican leaders. Opposition to the proposal that the United States with Great Britain commit itself to go to France's aid in the event that country were attacked was voiced by Senator Borah of Idaho and Curtis of Kansas, while Senator Sherman of Illinois and Moses of New Hampshire, criticized the league of nations covenant in the treaty.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, retiring chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, approved the treaty as a whole. He said the "crowning glory of this great document is the fact that there is embedded in it the execution of the league of nations. The senator declared the treaty was a monumental work" and "measured up to the highest moral standards of the world," with justice as the basis of re-organization.

General approval of the military and naval terms imposed on Germany was given by Republican and Democratic senators, officials and diplomats generally. Senator Borah confined his statement to the proposal for a triple alliance between the three leading associated powers. He declared that whether the United States should take part in any future European war "was a matter upon the facts as they arise and upon the facts as they arise and which must bear the brunt of the war and by the intelligence and the conscience and judgment of the American people as they see the situation when face to face with it."

Senator Sherman said the "manner in which the treaty has been presented is a resort to gag rule." He declared it was "a confession of weakness" of the league of nations has to be dragged thru as an annex to the treaty of peace," and said he would vote to separate the league covenant from the treaty and take a separate vote on each.

Senator Sherman added: "The terms of peace are sufficiently drastic and serve as a remedy for the militaristic spirit of Germany. "I hope," he added, "that the treaty will be carried out in its letter and spirit. I will vote to separate the league covenant from the treaty and take a separate vote on each. The manner in which the treaty has been presented is a confession of weakness that the league of nations has to be dragged thru as an annex to the treaty of peace. Unquestionably the league of nations creates a super-government. No power on earth can make me vote submission to any allegiance other than that I owe to the United States."

PLANE CRASHES TO GROUND; FLIERS UNHUR

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 8.—Pilot Gardner, formerly of the United States Mail Aerial Service while making a flight with Major Fred Lakin, second American ace, crashed to the ground at the flying field today, but both occupants of the craft escaped injury. The plane was running up a flight to New York and when it rose to the ground on the descent the engine developed trouble. Both men crawled out of the wreckage without assistance and while somewhat bruised were unhurt.

The governor had been warned that steps would be taken to thwart his recommendations for reforms in the tax fixing methods of the state which included the abolition of the board, to be replaced by a tax commission. More than thirty years ago Governor Oglesby appointed a special commission to simplify the taxing of the state. "That commission," Governor Lowden shows, "made an exhaustive and extremely studious study of the question and its report was a classic. Despite that Illinois now is the only state that has not been given simplified ways of taxing corporations, and the people generally. Every other state in the union has a state taxing body or commission ranging from one to seven members. Three is the average number of members on a state taxing commission. Illinois still maintains the antiquated board of equalization with its twenty-six members.

GOMPERS ON BOLSHIEVISM. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is most emphatic and pronounced in his views regarding Bolshievism. He said recently:

"I am absolutely opposed to bolshievism either in theory or in fact. In theory it is a mental impossibility; in fact—it put in operation—it would mean the decadence and perversion of civilization of our times. I am unwilling that all the progress made by the genius of the past should be thrown to the winds.

"That our own house is kept in order. There is another element in our life which needs scrutiny. Bolshievism is not the only danger; the stand-patter and the profiteer are equally a menace. The industrial autocrat who thinks he is monarch of all he surveys is the incentive for hatred and dissatisfaction which breed trouble."

The Rockford Star, commenting on Mr. Gompers' statement, says:

"The world has got rid of one form of autocracy. Russian bolshievism reveals another kind—the autocracy of a single economic class, the 'proletariat,' or unskilled workers. Bolshievism is as bad as Kaiserism. And just as bad as either of them is the third type, known only too well in this country in the past, the autocracy of capital, seeking the absolute rule of its own limited class. Happily, this type is less common now than it was before the war. It must disappear entirely, giving way to genuine democracy in industry, if our society is to escape the opposite merit of an autocracy of unskilled labor.

ing in the past is the one great simple and positive work and faith—that is in evidence in municipal affairs today. We have found that all that is needed to accomplish great things is united effort. To borrow the motto of another town it is the 'I Will' and with the co-operation and work to which the city of our homes is entitled, great things may be accomplished.

MANUFACTURE BY THE STATE

Manufacture by the state of materials needed in making public improvements, including the building of roads, and study of the advisability of amending present laws to permit the use of patented materials are included in recommendations of the special legislative committee named by the legislature to investigate prices of building materials and made public last night.

The report of the committee, of which Senator John Dalley of Peoria is chairman, also urges the passage by the general assembly of a state forestry law, and memorialization of congress to present the need of a federal forestry policy. Such a program is declared to be necessary in order to conserve state and national timber supplies.

No positive evidence was discovered by the committee to indicate that prices were established by combination of dealers in building materials. "The circumstances however indicate," the report says, "that cement prices are fixed by agreement."

The report found the average total cost of manufacturing cement, including packing and administration, would be $1.25 a barrel.

The inquiry of the committee was confined largely to the so-called basic materials—brick, cement and lumber, although some attention was given to sand, gravel and stone.

In a special recommendation to the public, the report urges immediate building and expressed the belief that prices on building materials will not soon be much reduced. "In view of our opinions expressed in this report," says the committee, "we believe it to be our duty as public officials to advise the public not to hope that prices will come down materially. We do not believe they will. We deem it a part of wisdom to accept present conditions as normal and that building operations should be based upon that principle. With labor unemployed, with plants operating at great losses, owing to limited outputs, with necessary public and private improvements long delayed, there is serious danger of widespread business depression. All contemplated buildings, homes and improvements should be started now."

Discussing the recommendation that the state acquire facilities for the manufacture of building materials, the report says:

"The direct interest of the State in a comprehensive system of road building makes it imperative that the State, as trustee for the people, should protect the public from extortionate charges for road building material. When the people voted for the $60,000,000 bond issue for hard roads it was with the express representation that the road projects would not be instituted until the war was over. The overwhelming vote for hard roads was with the understanding that this work would not be commenced until prices were established and normal conditions resumed. The present unjustifiably high prices of road materials will restrict the road building program, reducing the mileage very appreciably. We believe in view of all these circumstances the State should be authorized by law to manufacture products entering into the public improvements of the state.

"We therefore recommend to the general assembly for passage and to the Governor the approval of an act enabling the state, thru its department of public works and buildings, to accomplish the following:

"a—Acquire by condemnation under the eminent domain laws of the state lands, mines, quarries, mineral deposits or other property for procuring such raw materials as are necessary for the construction of public improvements.

"b—Lease, purchase, construct, maintain and operate lands, mines, plants and factories for manufacturing products necessary in the maintenance and construction of public highways.

"c—Sell and dispose of products so produced.

"d—Enter into contracts with producers and manufacturers for the supply to the state of raw materials and manufactured products necessary in the construction and maintenance of public improvements by the state.

"e—Extend credit and make loans to persons, firms or corporations to assist them in producing raw materials and manufactured products; such credit to be extended or loans made only when such persons, firms or corporations execute and furnish to the department of public works and buildings pledges, promises and guarantees sufficient to secure the state on account of such loans made or credit extended."

In explanation of the statement that no positive evidence was present to show combination of cement manufacturers to fix prices although circumstances indicated that an understanding existed, the report says:

"Our basis for this conclusion is that different companies make exactly or approximately the same bids for the same work. As an illustration the Atlas, Lehigh, Marquette and Universal companies recently made a price verbally to the city of Chicago and to the county of Cook of $2.05 a barrel for the city and $2.08 a barrel for the county. The identity of bids is significant that such prices were the result of agreement. The Marquette plant is located in LaSalle county, Illinois, as is one of the Lehigh plants; the Atlas plant is located at Hannibal, Mo., and the Universal plant located at Huntington, near Gary, Indiana. The freight rate from Hannibal to Chicago is 42 cents whereas the freight rate from Gary to Chicago is 19 cents. If Hannibal can furnish cement in Chicago at a profit, then the difference of 23 cents freight rate would indicate that the Gary plant is making an excessive profit or at least 23 cents a barrel on cement. Either this is true or the Hannibal plant is losing money or an agreement and understanding exists between these companies determining prices."

With reference to brick prices the report says: "We have been informed by the brick manufacturers that brick cannot be sold for less than $12 per thousand in Chicago, delivered to the job, depriving the manufacturers of a reasonable profit. This we are not prepared to dispute. * * *

The commission has been unable to establish by evidence that any illegal combinations exist to regulate the price of common building brick."

The committee offers no hope for speedy relief from high building prices. "Under present abnormal conditions," it is said, "brought about by the war and its consequent effect upon all other industries, as well as upon capital, no great demand has existed in the country for timber and in consequence timber or stumpage values have not enhanced in the same proportion as have other commodities; but the world as a market following settled conditions in the several countries, which have been at war, stumpage or timber values in this country will in the opinion of the commission increase materially, not alone because of the great demand for lumber but because of the fast diminishing supply."

The report says labor must not be disturbed. "Wages are not too high," it says, "when we consider the diminishing purchasing power of the dollar. Besides wages do not depend upon laws or legislative recommendation; wages depend upon economic condition. Contracts for wages should be based upon the cost of living, giving to the wage earner the ability to sustain himself and his family with comfort and decency. We do not believe under present standards of living that wages are too high."

Yesterdays. The bright and golden yesterdays are pleasant to remember, when we leg-weary mortal jays have reached life's bleak December. I like to think of goodly acts, and struggle to recall them. I gloat and linger o'er the facts, and nurse and overhaul them. Alas, my goodly deeds are few, and dreaming in my shanty, I blush to bring them into view, their numbers are so scanty. I envy much the ancient gent whose memories don't grind him, who gazes back with calm content, on well spent days behind him. Age has no terrors for that scout, his memory's a treasure; not falling slight or itch or gout can mar his tranquil pleasure. To one who's spent his younger years in vain and wanton folly, age is a time of sighs and tears, remorse and melancholy. It's sad to see a hoary guy in sorrow wade and founder, because of sins in days gone by, when he was quite a rounder. When one is old such things come back, and haunt his recollection, and so he moons around his shack, the symbol of dejection. There's nothing like a well spent life to make its sunset cherry, when one has tolled thru all its strife, and evening finds him weary.

MISS CROMWELL TO WED CHICAGO MAN

Engagement of Miss Vincent Cromwell to Franklin Mayo Announced at Luncheon at Home of Mrs. J. Thompson Sharpe Thursday.

At a luncheon given Thursday by Mrs. J. Thompson Sharpe at her home, 821 West State street, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Vincent Cromwell to Franklin Mayo of Chicago. The guest list included a limited company of Mrs. Sharpe's intimate friends. The couple was prettily decorated with white lilies and a white wreath of lilies of the valley, white tulle and candlesticks. A corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley was placed at each plate.

The announcement of the engagement was made in a novel manner, when a telegram came from Miss Cromwell in Chicago, stating that it was proper for her mother to announce the engagement. The announcement was a complete surprise to all in the company, and although the date of the wedding has not been made public it is probable that it will occur at no distant date.

Miss Cromwell, who is the daughter of Mrs. J. Thompson Sharpe, was born in this city and has spent the greater part of her life here. She graduated some years ago from the North Chicago hospital training school, and in late months has been a nurse in the war service. She has but recently received her discharge from government service. Miss Cromwell is a young woman of great personal charm and worth and has many friends both in this city and Chicago.

Mr. Mayo, who is president of the Mayo-Skinner Manufacturing company of Chicago, has more than the usual business ability and has the high esteem of all who know him.

VALUABLE PRODUCTS FROM THIS COUNTY

A Few Figures Showing a Part of the Returns For Small Things.

The time was, and not so very many years ago, when a Morgan county farmer hardly considered himself first class and up to date unless he was feeding a bunch of cattle. In the days long gone by when men fed shock corn to their cattle, it was generally estimated that three hogs following each steer would be the profit from feeding but the late Judge Samuel Wood said that many a crop of corn didn't bring the feeder more than ten cents a bushel and sometimes not that. Again there were times when it would bring fifty cents to a dollar or more and that would encourage the feeder and his neighbors to try it again.

Of late years more attention is being paid to small things and to good advantage and if people would only test their cows, caponize their male chickens, select the laying hens, according to the rules explained by Prof. Gilbert at the chautauqua last fall how much more might be made.

A few days ago the writer sought the poultry establishments of the city and asked information regarding their business and it was courteously afforded.

Swift & Co. for 1918 gave the following figures for material bought by them within a radius of fifty miles. At present they are shipping about 3,000 cases of eggs a week, thirty dozen to a case.

For 1918:
 Poultry 1,600,000 lbs. $470,000
 Eggs, 1,440,000 doz. $485,000

Made 1,700,000 lbs.
 creamery butter ... 773,000 Paid av. 49 cts. lb. for butter fat ... 627,500

Total ... $1,582,000
 H. E. Frye said he bought about, in poultry and eggs ... 50,000
 Birdsell & Acre poultry, eggs and cream about 50,000
 Hatfield Poultry Co., poultry, butter and eggs about 400,000

Making grand total $2,082,000
 Add to this the vast amounts handled by the grocers and the many small concerns all over the county and adjacent counties, many of which do not sell thru the larger houses of Jacksonville;
 the concerns which have wagons collecting produce and shipping it direct and regarding which no figures are available; then the farmers who sell to town customers directly and we have a grand total which would doubtless well nigh equal double the above named amount.

More and more is the matter of smaller farms and more intensive cultivation being urged. Then too the improvement of stock, poultry and methods also is to be regarded. With all the possible attractions the young people need not leave the farm.

Poverty

Poverty is no crime, but it is mighty disagreeable. Some are poor through no fault of their own. But the majority of the penniless might have saved themselves humiliation, and healed their own want, if they had only put by some of their money when they

STATES RUSSIANS NEED INFORMATION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 8.—The hope of Russia lies in the facts that those in authority who come in touch with the people daily are honest, intelligent and intensely earnest in their desire to learn what is needed for Russia's salvation according to William Fletcher Russell, dean of the college of education University of Iowa who recently returned from a mission to Russia on behalf of the government, making a survey of Russia's educational needs.

"What those people need is information," Dean Russell said, speaking before the National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teacher associations here. "If we could put into the country a group of experts—say two or three experts in educational lines who would go there under the guise of seeking an exchange of information rather than of teaching them, we could accomplish much. I should like to see a scheme adopted to bring about twenty of the most promising students of Siberia to America each year all expenses paid to give them the advantages of American educational institutions and to see that they saw America's best as well as America's worst. This would cost only about $80,000 a year and would accomplish much for real Democracy."

Dean Russell said Russia is in dire need of school supplies.

MADRIGAL CONCERT ARTISTIC SUCCESS

Club was Greeted By an Enthusiastic Audience — Miss Monroe Was Well Received.

The Madrigal Club of the college of music of Illinois Woman's college gave its annual concert in music hall last night before an audience that made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in size. The inclement weather and the other entertainments in town were doubtless responsible for the absence of many of the audience was far from being a small one and the club fully paid expenses.

The work of the club was excellent. Their attacks and releases were clean and incisive, their tone quality beautiful, their intonation perfect and their shading emotionally conceived. Too much praise cannot be given to Miss Lazelle for her excellent work in leading them.

The soloist of the evening was Miss Olivia Monroe, an ardent pupil of Miss Lazelle's from Springfield. She revealed a clear, high soprano voice of limpid quality, excellently schooled and at all times serviceable as a medium for the expression of her own clear cut interpretations of the numbers given. Her coloratura work was exceptionally true and brilliant and her work found instant favor with the audience. She was ably seconded by Miss Lilla Skinner whose accompaniments were most satisfying tonally, technically and in their support to the singer.

The college orchestra contributed two numbers to the program under Mr. Stearns' direction and acquitted themselves excellently of the task in hand. Their playing was crisp and rhythmic and possessed of real tonal beauty.

The closing number of the program Bizet's "Agnes Dei" called for the forces into play. The chorus, orchestra, piano and organ formed a massive background against which were placed Miss Monroe's voice and Miss Moore's violin in solo and obligato parts the whole mounting to a thrilling and impressive climax.

OBJECT IS TO GET STARTED RIGHT

Health Promotion Week is Simply to Get People Started Right

An old toper once remarked that drinking was a bad habit and he had quit it. Just then a man produced a tempting bottle when the old fellow remarked:

"But if it's all the same to you I don't mind if I quit again."

We want to quit our careless habits and begin with health promotion week to do better but we should not stop with health week and have to be spurred again to do something for health promotion. Don't let us imitate the toper and have to be aroused every little while, but let us stay on the job right along and see to it that our city is a model in cleanliness.

Every Methodist and his friend or acquaintance should arrange to attend the big joint meeting at Centenary church Sunday night, May 11. Grace, Brooklyn and Centenary unite. Interesting speakers will discuss the Centenary Movement. Stirring music. You are invited.

NAVY MEN WILL BE HERE TODAY

E. E. Harlan of the United States navy will be at the post-office today for the purpose of securing recruits for the navy. The navy wants several thousand men and offers exceptional opportunities to young men to see the world and at the same time perfect themselves in good trades.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HEALTH WEEK

Considerable Wisdom Condensed in a Few Short Sayings for the Benefit of All.

Some times a short sentence will accomplish more good than a long sermon. A noted editor once apologized for writing a long editorial saying he didn't have time to write a short one.

Here are a few suggestions which have been made regarding health promotion week.

Health the most valuable possession.

Can all garbage in garbage can. You can.

Health is wealth.

The hope of the nation lies in healthy citizens.

The only good fly is a dead fly.

Your body is a delicate machine; take care of it.

You need fresh air day and night. It is the only air there is at night.

Well kept alleys pay better dividends than well kept cemeteries.

Good health means good business.

Bad health means bad business. Disease prevention is even more important than fire prevention.

Tuberculosis kills more persons each year than any other preventable disease.

Matrimonial

Nicholson-Conrad.

Many Jacksonville people will be interested in knowing of the marriage of Edward Nicholson and Miss Mabel Conrad of Pittsfield, which occurred in Chicago on March 21. The announcement of the marriage was not made until recently, while the young people were visiting relatives of the bride in Pike county.

Mr. Nicholson is the son of Rev. George E. Nicholson, who at one time resided on North Church street in this city. The young man was for a time employed by the Wabash in this city as telegraph operator, and he now holds the responsible position of chief telegraph operator in a Chicago Western Union office. The acquaintance with Miss Conrad developed while Mr. Nicholson was in Pittsfield visiting his father, then pastor of a Pittsfield church. Miss Conrad at the time of her marriage was employed as superintendent of telephone operators at a Chicago exchange.

Following their visit in Pittsfield Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson will take up their residence in Chicago, and they will carry with them the best wishes of a wide circle of friends.

PREDICT REVOCATION OF PROHIBITION ORDER

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 8.—Resolutions adopted today at the closing session of the National Retail Liquor Dealers' Association ask all fair minded citizens to "assist in fighting national prohibition since the issue was promulgated in the absence of 2,500,000 voters, many of whom made the supreme sacrifice in blood and treasure against such a fatal propaganda as prohibition emanates from."

Prophecies were made that President Wilson will be in so cheerful mood when he returns from Paris that he will wipe all war time legislation off the statute books. Prohibition, it is predicted, will be included in the process.

POSTAL ADOPTS EIGHT HOUR DAY JUNE 1

NEW YORK, May 8.—Charles P. Bruch, general manager of the Postal Telegraph System, announced here today that effective June 1 the eight hour day and time and a half for overtime had been adopted for all the system employees in fifty-one large and small cities of the United States.

Mr. Bruch said details of the change in working conditions had been approved by Postmaster General Burleson but had not been worked out and the preliminary order stated that the shorter work day would apply to all employees in Postal offices working under similar conditions doing work corresponding to that of employees in service of other telegraph companies in the fifty-one cities.

More operators, he said, were now employed on day "tricks" of nine hours and night "tricks" of seven and a half hours. On June 1, he said, the day operators would work fewer hours and the night operators time would be increased.

Christopher, Ill. — "For four years I suffered from irregularity, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two or four best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others. I tried it and I am no longer nervous, am regular and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble." — Mrs. Alice Heller, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as thousands of women have found by experience.

If complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions in regard to your ailment. The result of its long experience is at your service.

Young Robinson was one of the contingent which left this city June 28. Afterward he was put to work in a German post-office, and later was with a motor corps. He is now at Camp Merritt, N. J., awaiting his discharge from the service.

THE WITCH OF FAIRY DELL

Operetta Given by Pupils of the Junior High—A Grand Success Before a Packed House—Scenes of Beauty and Loveliness Unsurpassed.

Standing room only and little of that left was the greeting to late comers at the David Prince gymnasium last evening when "the Witch of Fairy Dell", an operetta, was presented by pupils of the junior high. The whole affair was a grand success from start to finish. It was under the management of Miss Lena Hopper and Esther Fuhr assisted by Miss Ethel Wylder.

The play opens with a group of village maidens happy and excited over the fair that is to be held the following day. They learn that the countess expects to attend the fair and hopes to adopt a child as she lost her babe in a storm at sea. The maidens, excepting Marguerite, determine to do all in their power to please the countess. Marguerite saying that she possesses no charm to induce the countess to love her. The maidens wishing to know which one will be chosen and whether the condition of the weather will be favorable, pay a visit to the witch. The queen and her fairies understand that Marguerite is the daughter of the countess. They meet at midnight and weave a spell so the countess will choose Marguerite. The fair is in progress when the countess arrives. She immediately favors Marguerite and recognizes a locket that proves that she is her lost child. All the maidens rejoice over Marguerite's good fortune and wish her joy.

Such an affair call for a great variety of costumes and these were all excellent. The one great pleasing feature about the whole affair was the ease and artlessness with which the children performed their several parts. Not one seemed to have any stage fright or timidity whatever and all did their work with the nonchalance of veterans and without any of the mechanical ways into which a professional will inevitably fall.

The orchestra accompanying was good. It was composed of Misses Clara Smith and Ruth Dorwart, piano; Ruth Wilson, John Robertson, Harland Moses, Howard Mitchell, Mary Winchester and Louise Robinson, violins. Jack Benson as Herald handled his angle well.

The various scenes were truly beautiful. The witch and the fairies made a picture never to be forgotten while the other scenes were equally well done and very attractive and performers could hardly ask for a more appreciative audience as the applause was generous and hearty.

The Journal has one very strong criticism to offer and that is a wholly kindly spirit without being captious or faultfinding. Such an elaborate affair should not pass away with but one presentation. Let it be repeated at an early day; what do you say, managers and performers. Let us hear from you soon.

BOOTLEGGING CASES IN COUNTY COURT

Blanche Wilson Case Begun—
—States Attorney Dismisses
Kate Haxton Case.

Bootlegging cases still occupy the attention of the county court. The Pete Haxton case which lasted for several days went to the jury shortly before noon Thursday.

States Attorney Robinson dismissed the case against Kate Haxton wife of Pete Haxton, who was also charged with selling liquor in local option territory.

The trial of Blanche Wilson charged with selling liquor in local option territory was called for hearing Thursday afternoon. The regular panel of jurors was exhausted before a jury was selected and it was necessary to summon a special panel.

States Attorney Robinson entered an objection to the sheriff or his deputies summoning the panel and the court appointed A. E. Opperman special bailiff to summon a panel of twelve jurors. The defendant is represented by Walter W. Wright and J. Marshall Miller. It is probable that it will take some time to complete the evidence in this case.

PLIGHT OF CLERGY IN NORTHERN RUSSIA

Priest in Letter to Archbishop Describes Situation in Villages of Northern Russia—Was Compelled to Sell all His Property.

Archangel. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Archbishop Nathaniel of Archangel and Kholmogory has recently received a letter from a priest of the parish of Oust Outcha in which the plight of the clergy of some of the villages of northern Russia under Bolshevik rule is described. The priest informed the archbishop that, under threat that he would be horsewhipped unless he paid the Bolsheviks 3,000 rubles he was compelled to sell all his property and ask his parishioners to raise money for his ransom.

"A terrible wave of Bolshevism has lately reached our little village," writes the priest, Ivan A. Serebrennikov. The young soldiers and sailors who are returning from the front are infested with Bolshevism and are making fun of everything sacred. The majority were formerly my parishioners but now they are so wicked that they have ceased to respect priests, old people and everything that is established, calling it the 'old regime'."

"Because of my preachings against the establishment of eighteen places for the manufacture of alcohol in this district, the Bolsheviks threatened to burn the church with me. The real misfortune of the clergy began with the declaration of the separation of the church and the state. The wicked secretary of the local soviet proposed to turn the church into a people's theatre and the priests' home into a school or a shop but the majority of the people opposed it."

"In November last when the Bolsheviks gained control of this district they arrested me and the deacon, demanding a contribution of 3,000 rubles and in case of refusal I was to be horsewhipped, my possessions confiscated and I was to be deported to the Red Guard headquarters to dig trenches."

Mr. Galavin, a clerk of an oil company, from whom the Bolsheviks demanded 35,000 rubles was horsewhipped and afterward, shot. When the Red Guard captured the village of Oust Zilma, wrote the priest, "they committed all sorts of outrages, cutting off tongues and ears and finally throwing their victims in the river." In conclusion the priest asked the archbishop not to send him back to the "frightful nightmare" at Oust Outcha.

WORK OF AMERICAN RED CROSS IN ATHENS

Under Red Cross Supervision American Workmen are Making American Artificial Limbs in Greek Workshop—Re-educates the Mutilated.

Athens. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The Balkan commission of the American Red Cross has brought to Athens an American superintendent and assistants with supplies in the rough for making artificial legs. At a Greek workshop in Athens, American workmen are making American artificial limbs and are instructing Greekmen in the art.

The American workmen have taken temporary charge of the school for the mutilated of the Greek army until a Greek superintendent and Greek workmen can be trained to take over the plant. The artificial legs will be fitted and given to Greek soldiers. It is the intention of the Greek government to see that every soldier who needs one is provided with an American artificial leg.

An artificial limb weighing only four pounds are now being supplied to hundreds of mutilated soldiers who formerly had crude peg legs and cumbersome twenty-pound artificial limbs of another pattern. The joy of these men at being able once more to move around easily is daily expressed in the American Red Cross workshops by dancing about on their new limbs with expressions of gratitude which, if it were not so pitiful, would be amusing.

As a corollary part of this work the American Red Cross also is supporting a school for the re-education of the mutilated. At this school the disabled are being taught useful trades of all kinds including tailoring, shoemaking, carpentering, metal working, basketry, and stenography and typing. For this latter work, a large number of American typewriters with Greek characters are needed.

AMERICA INVADES JUGO-SLAV TERRITORY

American Red Cross Officers and Nurses and Representatives of Food Administration and of the Army Now Seen in Every Part of Territory.

Belgrade, Serbia.—(By Mail)—There has been an American invasion of Jugo-Slav territory. In every city from Durazzo, in Albania, to Strumitza in Serbia, and reaching from Belgrade to Zagreb, the Jewel of Jugo-Slavia, American Red Cross officers, physicians and nurses, and representatives of the food administration and of the army, may be seen. All are engaged in the big task of feeding and clothing the people in the areas which have suffered most by the war. The United States has been likened to a bountiful mother caring for a flock of small children—the children being the many Balkan countries comprising what one day is expected to become greater Jugo-Slavia.

At a hundred points in Serbia, Montenegro, Albania, Bosnia, Herzegovina and Croatia, the American Red Cross is giving the people a taste of American generosity. Food, clothing, shoes and medicines are being distributed to the destitute. American physicians and nurses are caring for the sick and wounded. By their work and their example, these Americans are inculcating in the Slav, new ideas of thrift, self-help, cleanliness and honesty, which must have a lasting influence.

The population of these countries is composed of many diverse races. The individual ambitions of the different Slav countries have been sacrificed in a desire to keep Italy from obtaining Dalmatia or any part of the Eastern Adriatic coast. The eyes of all are turned to America which they regard as the greatest sponsor for the unity and integrity of the Slav nations.

DESCRIBES RESTING PLACE OF SOLDIER

Miss Helen Carter representative of the American Red Cross home service section writes of one of Morgan county's young hero's resting place in France sends Easter greetings to have folks, Jacksonville, Ill., U. S. A.

Subject, Private Lee P. Flynn of Co. M, 127 Inf. A. E. F., cemetery twenty-seven, grave number one hundred and twenty-five. As a representative of the American Red Cross home service section, I am sending you an Easter message with my sincere sympathy and understanding Lee P. Flynn paid the full price of war and now lies in the Beau Desert cemetery. Where it has been my privilege to pay a tribute to him, the flowers of France his new homeland are now blooming up on his grave here the colors for which he died are still waving. A red geranium, a white tulip, and a blue forget me not. What might be a desolated resting place has now become a spring garden each plant has been placed there in memory of him who completed his duty to his country the forget-me-not, is a token of those at home who have not the privilege that has come to me in being able to visit the grave. The cemetery is on the outskirts of this large hospital center and is surrounded by a white picket fence and just beyond the fence on three sides are pine and poplar trees. They are nearly 300 graves in rows; each grave marked with a white cross. Bearing the name and organization of each man. This marker will be carefully preserved so that there will be no opportunity of ever forgetting or losing track of the young men resting there. It will be the pleasure of the Red Cross and other workers to visit the graves and to assist in caring for the blooming plants and I trust it will be a comfort even tho a very small one to know that our young men who have a new cross to wear will always be remembered and thought of in terms of devotion and affection by the men and women over here.

American Red Cross,
Miss Helen Carter.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headaches—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

To the men on the farm who need clothes this spring

There's one thing you want to be sure of when you buy clothes—you want to know that they're good.

That isn't so easy if you depend on the looks of the clothes; they are all made to look nice—if they weren't nobody would buy them.

No, "looks" alone don't make clothes — though style is an important part of it.

The big thing is the part you can't see; the tailoring inside; the interlinings; the all-wool fabrics. Those things give you the wear; the service.

At this store you can be sure you're getting the best of all of them; we sell Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes, which are as good inside as they look outside.

All-wool fabrics for long service; careful tailoring; good style; a guarantee of absolute satisfaction or your money back.

If Your Battery Could Talk

One thing it would say is: "Don't starve me."

Another: "Don't let me die of thirst."

A third: "Test me often with a hydrometer."

Those are all simple rules, and easy to remember, but to your battery they mean the difference between a long life and a short one.

There are other things that ought to be kept in mind if you look after your own battery. It will pay you to ask us what these are the next time you come in for a hydrometer test or to have distilled water put into your battery.

Take all Conference

Dr. George N. Coffey, state leader of county agents, has called an emergency conference at Granite City May 10th for the purpose of inspecting wheat fields infested with Takeall, the new Australian wheat disease. Granite City is in Madison county, where the disease was first detected by the county agent.

Co-Operative Marketing of Wool
F. E. Drury as a committeeman in the State Livestock Association strongly favors the co-operative marketing of wool. Although the commission firm at Chicago will receive lots from individuals, the greater saving will come from farmers co-operating and shipping in car load lots. This office would like to hear from wool growers who are willing to pool their clip for the purpose of giving the method a trial. We ought to have this information at once.

Executive Committee Endorses
State Police Bill
D. O. Thompson, secretary of the Illinois Agricultural Association, ought to get behind the State Police Bill, president of the Farm Bureau, that our county organization ought to get behind the State Police Bill. The members of the executive committee were consulted, as these favored the project, our state senator and representatives were sent a resolution telling them that we would appreciate their supporting this bill. If the bill becomes a law it will be due to the backing of farmers organizations. Are you a member of such an organization?

Farm Jobs for Soldier Boys.
It is insufficient to quit doing for our soldier boys when we have put a welcome sign and have tendered a reception or two. These men want positions in addition to this ceremony. Those with farm experience and ambitions will be given first place when it comes to making recommendations from this office. Wednesday one of our big farmers called up and preferred a returned soldier, a young man in khaki was in the office at the time inquiring for a place. He was sent at once to the farm. In the days to come we hope to be of service to many others.

Sales Pavilion.
Sales of various sort have been held here. In almost every case the seller has been puzzled as to where he was to hold forth. At least one of our prominent breeders canvassed garages and livery barns for a place to hold a sale in town. There was really no convenient place and he held the sale at home. As our breeders association gets into action it might be worth while to arrange for the construction of a sales pavilion. Here is a very definite project worth the attention of an energetic committee from the Commercial Club.

SHALL WE HAVE A GREETING?
The soldiers are coming home all along and by the Fourth of July a lot of them will have arrived and shall we give them a public greeting or not? It does seem a pity to have the Nation's birthday go unheeded and we are hardly in a position to expend five hundred dollars or twice that for elaborate fireworks and a grand welcome home to our soldier boys would be a fine solution of the question. There is lots of room at Nichols Park for all sorts of doings and a fine program might be arranged without any very great expense.

A number of persons have been approached on the subject and approve of the idea and it only remains to have it worked up by some one as it should be. Mr. Weir would probably consent to act as chairman of such an affair instead of the one suggested for Decoration Day. There could be committees appointed in each precinct of the county and they could solicit supplies and get the names of the soldiers. Then arrange at the park to tender a free dinner to each returned soldier, his wife if he has one and if not, then his parents if he has them of either of them. Everybody else could have family, neighborhood or other sort of picnics and the day might be very happily spent. The matter should soon be taken in hand if it is to be carried out.

HAS A GERMAN HELMET
C. A. Johnson is the pleased possessor of a fine German helmet sent him by W. R. Compton of St. Louis, head of the district Liberty Loan. Mr. Johnson is head of this division and each one like himself has been thus favored.

A NEW CORPORATION FOR BUSINESS

The Indian Creek Threshing Company Daily Organized for Business.

For some years the farmers in the vicinity of Indian Creek and Grace Chapel have had lots of trouble in getting threshing done. It seemed to them that every other neighborhood was favored first and they came last. Last year they had to send thirteen miles into another county to get the work done so this spring a few assembled and decided to be independent in the matter and have an outfit of their own and to that end the Indian Creek Threshing Association was organized.

The officers are:
President—H. E. Ogle.
Secretary and Treasurer—Fred Braner.

Manager—Elmer Smith.
Directors—Newell Braner, Harry Braner, Oscar Bridgman and Vinton Bourn.

Operator—Douglas Turley.
The company has bought thru Chas. M. Strawn, a Case separator for $1569.00 and have arranged with Douglas Turley to do the threshing. Mr. Turley finds engine, engineer, fuel and oil.

The association finds the machine and a man to operate it and they divide the returns equally between Mr. Turley and the company.

The machine is of the latest pattern, wind stacker and new grain sower which is a special arrangement by which the straw grains which heretofore have found their way to the stack will be saved and sent back thru the separator.

The machine is almost entirely metal with very little wood about it and is a fine piece of mechanism.

The writer wonders how many have seen the crude devices which he helped use when a boy. The flail which was a pitchfork handle affair with a shorter piece tied to the end with a leather strap. With this a man laboriously pounded the grain out of the straw, pitched the straw aside and separated the grain from the chaff with a hand turned windmill.

The treading process: horses were driven over the grain which was thus separated and from the straw and then the chaff and all put thru the windmill.

Then the ground thrasher which was simply a cylinder placed on the ground, the machinery turned by horse power, straw, grain, chaff and dust coming out behind where men pitched away the straw and shoveled away chaff and wheat and all were begrimed, thoroughly by mealtime.

Then came the separator and it seemed as if no improvement could be made. There men had to pitch away the straw which the writer has done more than once and it was a hard task. Now all is done without horses and with little dirt.

TALKING ABOUT IT
Spivy Says Wife Does Work First Time in 12 Years—Gains 28 Pounds.

"You ought to hear the way our neighbors are talking about Tanlac since my wife's recovery," said W. A. Spivy, motorist No. 95, for the Kansas City Metropolitan street railway and a valued employee of the company for twenty-three years. He and his wife and interesting family of children, live in their own home at 116 South Church street, Olathe, Kansas.

"Mrs. Spivy has been in poor health for fourteen years," he continued, "and almost every month during that time she was under treatment of some sort, but she never got any relief that we could notice. She had no appetite and there were mighty few things she could eat and what little she did force down soured on her stomach and gas would form and make her so miserable that she would have to lie down for awhile. She almost always had an awful pain in the small of her back and she suffered from blinding headaches and sometimes she would be so dizzy she would have to put her hand on something steady like the back of a chair to keep from falling. She suffered from nervousness so that some nights she could hardly sleep at all and she never did know what it was to get a good night's rest. She kept growing weaker and weaker and was so bad off that twice in the last six years she was given up to die. We thought we had tried everything to help her and didn't know what else to do when a lady friend of hers told about Tanlac. I bought the first bottle about three months ago and almost at once she began to show her strength was coming back, but the wonderful improvement has been in the past two months.

"She has a good appetite now, and can eat anything she wants like apples, cabbage, pies and meats of any kind. Anyone of like Tanlac were just like poison to her. She doesn't suffer a bit from sour stomach or gas and she gets so much good from what she eats that she has gained twenty-eight pounds in the past two months. She is entirely rid of that pain in her back and the headaches are gone, too. Nobody could tell that anything had been the matter with her nerves they are so quiet now, and she sleeps about nine hours every night. She has gotten so strong that she is doing all the housework for our family of six and doesn't mind it a bit, and it is the first time in twelve years that she has been able to do any work at all. She is more like she used to be fifteen years ago than I ever hoped to see her and I feel just like everybody else that knows of her improvement that Tanlac is the best medicine ever made.

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Shreve, in Merced by Mr. R. B. Field, in Murfreesboro by Mr. M. E. Gilbert, in Waverly by the Wyle Drug Co. (Adv.)

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Chick Feed

This combination insures maximum results, because it gives the chick all the nutrients needed to develop the whole chick. Chicks fed the Purina Way grow much faster than when fed only grain because grain is rich in heat and energy, but lacks a sufficient quantity of the elements that make blood, bones, nerves, feathers and flesh. These elements are abundantly provided in PURINA CHICKEN CHOWDER.

PURINA CHICKEN CHOWDER should be fed right through the summer to chicks and growing fowls. Your pullets will begin to lay earlier in the fall if the feeding plan is followed. PURINA CHICKEN CHOWDER should be fed with PURINA CHICK FEED and PURINA SCRATCH FEED. Follow this plan and we'll guarantee

K. OF C. HELPED

A. E. F. SPORTS

Shipped Tons of Athletic Supplies Overseas and Scores of Directors—Work at Full Speed with Army of Occupation.

After nearly two years of strenuous effort as a war relief organization the Knights of Columbus can rightly claim to have provided some form of sport for every member of the American army and navy. They have shipped over a half-million dollars worth of sport supplies to the
A. E. F. have provided over $120,000 worth of men on the navy's ships, and have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on sporting equipment for the home camp buildings, patronized by millions of young service men.

While the Knights have given equal stimulation, from the point of view of bulk-equipment provided, to all the popular sports, they have emphasized boxing as a feature because boxing appears to have been most popular with the men. Early in the war game, before the Knights had established their organization overseas, their buildings in the home camps were jammed two and three times a week for boxing contests. At Camp Gordon they staged the biggest boxing tournament ever held in this country, when fifty champions, including Benny Leonard, and other notables fought for the boys under the K. of C. auspices.

The Knights have encouraged the manly art of self defense over seas to the extent of tens of thousands of pairs of boxing gloves, and whenever an inquiry is addressed from the navy for K-C supplies, boxing gloves are always included in the list.

"The manly art of self-defense will prosper in this country as a result of the war," says Chairman William J. Mulligan, who, in almost every nine months overseas supervising K. of C. relief work. "From Paris to Coblenz and down on the other side of France, we have found boxing the leading attraction with the men in the service, and we have striven to give them all they need of it."

Alce McLean, Jimmy Twyford,
Billy Roche, Jack McAuliffe, Jake
Carey and other well-known fight impressarios have been securing up the sport for the American boys under K-C auspices.

For baseball the Knights have had over Johnny Evers, and now

Jack Barry, Bill Coughlin, Bill
McCabe and other well-known diamond men are over in K-C uniforms. The rowing division, of the sports management looked after by Varley, Johnson, Rooney, amateur singles champion and others. Warner, the champion skater, is over for the Knights and Sergeant Dugan, crack shot of the Chicago police force, is giving K-C service to the dough-boys.

Many of the men over for the Knights are experienced athletes, and with the material at hand—
for instance, over five thousand complete baseball outfits have been supplied by the Knights—they have been able to keep a constant program of athletic recreation in operation for the men.
This athletic program will be maintained at full speed until all the boys come back. Up in Ehrenbreitenstein in Germany
the Knights stage boxing contests every week, patronized by from five to ten thousand men. It is estimated that half a million A. E.
F. men overseas witness K. of C.
boxing tournaments every week.

SHIPYARD WORKERS DENOUNCE AGITATORS

Fomenters of Discontent and Preachers of Anarchy Scathingly Denounced by Workmen in Shipyard Publications—Demand 100 Per Cent Americanism.

Washington, May — Fomenters of discontent and preachers of anarchy come in for scathing denunciation in contributions by workmen appearing recently in various shipyard papers. Revolutionary agitation has evoked a veritable avalanche of letters, articles, poems and quips from men whom the agitators sought to influence, in which the writers arraign imported doctrines in no uncertain terms and demand "100 per cent Americanism" of every man working on the ships which will fly the United States flag.

A compendium of the various articles makes a "vigorous, common sense manifesto," according to a statement today by the shipping board, quoting the verdict of the workmen.

"The American citizen is ready at all times to render justice when justice is due, but if the Bolsheviks in this country cannot see the American point of view they are liable to feel it—on the way out!" asserts Speed Pp, published at the Newark Bay, N. J., yard of the Submarine Boat Corporation.

Lincoln's opinion on the rights of property is quoted by a writer in the Compass, of the Chester, (Pa.) Shipbuilding Company, in refutation of communistic agitation. The quotation reads:

"Let not him that is homeless pull down the home of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself—thus by example he will be assured that his own will be safe from violence."

A committee of the workmen asked for a page in the Riverside Review of the McDougall-Duluth Company, Duluth, Minn., and ran on it a denunciation of some of their fellows who had been scattering radical propaganda.

"When we want a revolution, we can get it with our votes," their statement said. "We are out and out, from top to bottom, and through and through, against Bolshevism and the I. W. W. When you find one, don't wait. Lead him to the gate and tell him to go. We will back you."

From the South also come many protests against agitation which might cause the loss of important advantages gained by labor during the war.

"Labor—organized and unorganized—has gained more substantial recognition and progressed further during our year and a half of war than it did in several previous decades," declares the Moshico Log, of the Mobile (Ala.) Shipbuilding Company. "The permanency of these forward steps will in a large measure be determined by labor's attitude in the next few months toward the controversies that are bound to arise. In the main, labor has acted very fairly thus far in the readjustment period and, barring the outbreaks of a few Bolsheviks and I. W. W.'s in its ranks, has played fairly."

Virtually all Pacific coast shipyard papers denounce radical propaganda, quoting experiences in the recent Seattle strike as support of their argument. The question from the standpoint of the men who built the ships necessary for victory, the Shipping Board statement says, is summed up in a paragraph, printed in Oyer The Top, published for the employees of the G. M. Standifer Construction Company, in Seattle and Vancouver. The paragraph asks:

"What was the use of building ships to feed the world and save civilization, if we are to have a paralyzed industry, plundered and ruined homes, famine, pillage, rapine and a riot of lust, in America?"

SALVADOR GREATLY IN NEED OF MONEY

According to New Minister Just Arrived at Washington—Relief for Protection on the U. S. Confident of Its Fairness.

San Francisco, Cal., May — The first and greatest need of the republic of Salvador is money, said Salvador Sol, new minister of Plenipotentiary at Washington for that country who has just arrived from South America. The money is needed at once, according to Minister Sol.

"Twenty five millions of dollars are needed to properly take care of our coffee crop and the government of the republic will not only welcome foreign capital but will make every fair inducement to attract it," he said. "We are particularly anxious to increase our commercial relations with the United States."

"The reason that Salvador did not actively enter the war against Germany was the fact that there was on old clique of politicians favorable to that country. Since the war that element has been completely eliminated. The administration of the country as elected now is entirely in the hands of pro-American officials. Our President, Jorge Melendez, was educated in the United States and I am one of a number of others in official positions who have had the same advantages."

"We are particularly anxious for some large banks who can do business in a big way to open up in Salvador. There are two banks of a capital of a half million dollars who have started business but what we really need is an institution which will have a capital of at least ten millions of dollars."

"Any man who has capital, say about $10,000, will find excellent opportunities for investment which, with work and care, will bring him returns well worth while. I should strongly advise against any young man who has only his hands and his brain to depend on from going down there."

"Our coffee before the war, was consumed in France, Italy, Germany and England. Now Germany is eliminated and the United States is getting one half of our crop."

"It will be my particular endeavor to foster the commercial relations between the two countries and to interest capital."

"We rely for our protection on the United States confident of its fairness; so much so that we sent our delegate to the Paris Peace convention instructed to concur with the vote of the United States on all questions which came up."

We do not fear anything as we are confident that the Monroe doctrine will stand and that this country will safeguard the nations of this continent.

Dear Sisters:

Once more I am going to try and write you a few lines. I am well as always and am enjoying myself about as much as the average over here. But you can figure out for yourself about how one can enjoy himself where it rains at least ten days out of every week.

I am afraid if I stay here much longer I am going to turn into a fish, but I guess not, for there are some people here now that were here and remember the time when Columbus started on his voyage in which he discovered America. We had a little kid in here the other day. She had been standing out in the rain for some time and I called her or rather made signs for her to come to the window and I would help her in. So she came and I set her down by a good fire and gave her a big piece of chocolate candy and when she got thru she sure would have made a good advertisement for chocolate candy.

I told the first sergeant that I did not think it advisable to leave her by the fire until she was perfectly dry for I thought they were so much like fish that if they were not always in the dampness they would die. So I sent her home. The next day she came back. I guess she wanted more chocolate, but our issue was exhausted by that time so I suppose she was disappointed. But the first sergeant tied a sack of Bull Durham tobacco to her apron strings and home we sent her. I don't suppose the trip did her much good, but if her dad got that sack of tobacco I assure you that he thought her time was well spent, for they have such a hard time here to get tobacco of any kind.

I got about six letters yesterday and when the mail came in I was out somewhere and before I came in some of the boys had looked thru it and picked my mail out and hid it, and then told me I had a hard day, for I did not get a line. I saw what a lot of mail they had and couldn't understand why. But after a long time they gave me mine. One letter was from Orville. He seems to think they are soon to be home-bound. Well just so I get home some time in the 20th century I will be satisfied.

I guess I wrote and told you what a football team we had in the 36th. Well we finally got beat. I saw them play in Bar-sur-Aube and also in Paris. The first half of the game was in our favor 6 to 0. While the boys went for a rest the time was spent by the hands playing, etc. The 89th band started around the ball park and some but not very many of their men followed them. But when our band started out you should have seen the boys jump over the fence and get behind the band, captains, lieutenants and all. Finally we all joined hands as we used to do sometimes at parties around home when we play drop the handkerchief or such games, only there were no women in the game and when we had all joined hands we had a circle all around the park and it was at least one half mile around. The last half of the game went against us so at the last we did not have much laughing coming.

We started from Flogny Friday evening about 8 o'clock and got in Paris about 7 the next morning. We got off at the train and there were 40 trucks waiting for us and also the Red Cross which gave each and every one of us two sandwiches and a cup of coffee. When we were all on trucks about 30 in each truck, we started down town and of all the noise you ever heard we sure did make some of it. Street cars and every thing stopped and gave us possession of the streets. I thought it was a grand trip and so did the rest of the boys. The worst part was riding on the train. But we had an American engine, American crew and German coaches every one. Some that they have turned over. They are better than the French coaches.

I think I am going to try and get a pass of 3 days to Paris in the near future. It sure is some town, but I took about everything in France to make it so. Well, I think I had better close this time, hoping to hear from you often or oftener. I remain, Your soldier brother, Corp. Arthur E. Johnson, Co. F, 142nd Infantry, A. P. O. 796, A. E. F., Carlsberg, France.

From Private Arthur D. Lamb
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lamb of Murrayville have recently received the following letter from their son, Arthur D. Lamb, private first-class, with Co. B, 141st Infantry, now in France. The young man left with the Morgan county contingent on May 25, and after several months' training in this country was sent across, landing in England Oct. 17, 1918. The letter follows:

Lagesse, France,
March 25, 1919.
Dear Mother and Father:-
I have just received a letter from you, written March 3, and it was the first one that I had received for quite a while. When you get a letter over here you feel as if there ought to be another one somewhere on the road. I suppose there are a lot of letters that I will never get. We do not have tents over here, but are quartered in what they call "billetts." They are built of rock and stone floors and are always damp. It is a wonder we don't all die from sleeping in them, but it takes a whole lot to kill a soldier boy. In the front times it was sure terrible. Sometimes you would have to lie two or three days in a hole with water in it, and maybe if you raised up out of the hole you would get shot. Then when one of those G. I. hit close to you it would probably throw you out of the hole and sometimes it would cover you with dirt. I have seen some boys who were buried alive. It is all terrible when you are on the front line. I was only up there five days but that was long enough for me.

We went over the top once, on Oct. 27. Then we were relieved and were to go back to the front on Nov. 14, but by the grace of God the armistice was signed in time to prevent that. I can tell you all about it when I get back home, which I hope won't be very long now.

Your loving son,
DEAN.

From Private Joseph F. Carrigan.

Miss Margaret Fitzpatrick of Waverly has received the following letter from her cousin Private J. F. Carrigan, who is stationed at Les Laumes, France with the American troops:

March 9, 1919.
Received your most welcome letters dated Jan. 28 and Feb. 13. Well, I am still in Les Laumes, France, a small town about the size of Woodson. I don't see why the French people don't make several of those small towns into one large city. They have about ten towns around about here a mile apart. There is a town on a hill above Les Laumes that was destroyed in a war several hundred years before Christ.

The buildings over here are almost all made of stone and the only way they would ever need a new building is to have the ones destroyed by war. A brick-layer over here would forget how to lay brick.

We do not work as much now as when the war was going on. We used to work seven days a week then, now we work five and a half days. Don't have to get up and stand reveille at 6:15 as on week days. And they have set the clocks up an hour now, so 6:15 is pretty early. Our division, the 78th, is booked to sail for the states the last of May. We left the states for over here the 25th of May, so we will be gone one year. That certainly is a long time to be in Europe.

We are having fairly good weather now, has only rained two days this week. It rained all winter but we not so very cold. They tell me in letters from home that there was a fine winter back there. Was glad to know that Frank Schneider was well. How does he like Germany? I guess he is like all the rest of us, wanting to get back home. He has been over here a long time now. The Mandeville boy was certainly fortunate getting home so soon. They tell me in every letter from home of several boys returning, and it may be the Fourth of July will arrive before I get there. Well, some boys will be over here two years, so I can't complain. We drill some days and work others. If we drill we play games and run races in the afternoon. On the days of work we work all day. Our work is unloading cars of lumber and repaving roads. You ought to see how gracefully the dry goods clerks and bookkeepers can handle a pick and shovel. A person could not tell they did not work on a section in civil life. The army, (the engineers' corps) is certainly a great help in teaching a person to be able to do any kind of work. We had a steeple jack digging in a dugout and a miner building an observation tower, and they did it to perfection too.

Well must close and will have to come and visit your new home when I get back. Best regards to Uncle James and all the rest.

Your loving cousin,
Joseph P. Carrigan,
Co. D, 303d Engineers,
A. E. F., A. P. O. 755.
